

A scenic view of a pebbly beach. In the foreground, the beach is covered in small, light-colored pebbles. Several curved tracks, possibly from a vehicle or a person, are visible in the pebbles. In the middle ground, a large, dark, craggy rock sits in the shallow water. Waves are breaking against the rock, creating white foam. The water is a deep blue-grey color. The sky is not visible, but the lighting suggests a bright day.
